Birds, Flowers, and Urn.

A red and yellow striped vase is the support for an evenly balanced arrangement of birds and sprays disposed around a curiously constructed central flower. Tiny birds interknit in the design are reminiscent of the work produced on the Ephrata cloisters, shown on pages 206 and 207. Red, yellow, blue, and green define this elaborate conception, drawn on a slightly smaller scale than shown here.

12/29/86 - purchased, from John Klinkewicz, his Hitachi 50T-9310 H stereo, tape recorder, turntable & speakers for $75.00 (if you please). A very good machine. He recently purchased a very fancy new machine & was anxious to sell his "old" machine - which exactly taken care of my audio needs. My Sony had a few problems and now those problems have all disappeared.
